Arizona Corporate Commission

Dear Sirs:

I have been a resident of Arizona (Sun City West) for going on to six years and have been reading about the water problems, both real and potential, since my arrival in 1996. I understand that there is much discussion and many divergent views as to how best resolve the problems of water shortage, groundwater pumping and subsidence of the ground surface as underground water levels are reduced.

Without reviewing once again all the options at hand, I would like to state that, in my opinion, the only way to prevent the continued reduction of water tables and resultant subsidence is to reduce the amount of groundwater being pumped. Simple. Accordingly, I urge you to approve the use of CAP water for irrigation of golf courses and the Groundwater Savings Project under consideration in the Sun Cities area. This, and only this, will give us the needed reduction in pumping which is so sorely needed.

Sincerely.

Speed
